SUMMARY

Producer with 4 years at Ogilvy, a global creative agency, taking broadcast and digital productions from first pitch to final frame. Whether I'm helping creatives bring an idea to life, steering budgets and teams so the work reaches the screen on time, or building tools that give producers and creatives more room to dream, the story always comes first, and my job, ultimately, is to protect it. Four years protecting other people's stories in advertising taught me what I want to do with mine: to stop telling stories that move products, and start telling stories that move people.

EXPERIENCE

Ogilvy (with the agency since 2020, started as an intern)

New York, NY

Producer

Sep 2022 – Present

- Produce 3–4 concurrent productions a month for national and international brands (Verizon, Mastercard, CRH, Coca-Cola, Samsung, Citizens Bank, Ad Council), from concept to final screen, on time and on budget.
- Drive boardomatic productions, building storyboards and story reels that pressure-test concepts and win multimillion-dollar client investment.
- Own production budgets totaling $6–7M, protecting creative quality and story integrity while optimizing spend and resources.
- Run shoots from prep through wrap, coordinating scheduling, crews, vendors, locations, and on-set production to keep every department aligned.
- Partner with creative teams to develop and refine ideas, translating their vision into a plan the production can execute.
- Oversee international productions, managing overseas partners and crews in Spanish and Portuguese.

Production Systems Developer (Dual Role)

May 2024 – Present

- Founded and lead Ogilvy NY's Production R&D Lab, an internal team piloting emerging production tools and workflows that support creative teams.
- Built and programmed a job-assignment and monitoring tool now adopted across the production department, letting executive producers manage twice as many projects at once, powered by an AI agent named "Kevin."
- Kevin is a pun-loving Costa Rican virtual macaw that emails producers for project updates, checks whether they need help, and keeps executive producers in the loop.
- Build and test production tools, from schedule timelines to an AI boardomatic generator, that together give 20+ producers about 5 hours back a week, over 100 hours of creative time returned to the department for story and craft.

LEADERSHIP & COMMUNITY

Co-Lead, Employee Resource Group

Dec 2022 – Present

Ogilvy

New York, NY

- Lead culture-consulting sessions that help align campaigns with diverse cultural insights.
- Host monthly diversity events, bringing in outside speakers and panels for the community.
- Built educational and skill-building initiatives that develop leadership and craft for 150+ members.
- Launched an executive mentorship program connecting members with senior leaders across the agency.

Story Xperiential Alumni Advisor (Volunteer)

Oct 2022 – 2024

X in a Box

Berkeley, CA · Remote

- Won the Excellence in Feedback Award (Fall 2022) for story notes given through Story Xperiential, an apprenticeship built in partnership with Pixar Animation Studios.
- Invited by program leadership to advise students through story feedback and instructional development.
